The Pomp and Panoply of War in Austria.

In an "age of peace in Europe," the expense of war continues in sustaining large standing armies. Austria proper has nearly a million of men always in arms, with a million or more of Reserves to draw upon. Germany, her next door friend and neighbor, boasts of nearly double that number of soldiers, besides a far greater Navy. Austria has twenty-seven million population, or including Hungary, a little less than fifty million people of a dozen nationalities. Germany is more uniform in nationality with about seventy million people. To-day, April 20th, a great Military Review was held upon a "field of Mars," called the Schmelde, at the outskirts of the city. It is a mile square and the 22,000 soldiers of the City made a grand display there from 8 A.M. to 10:30 A.M. Our American party of five awoke at 5 o'clock in order to find a good position for our carriage at A.M. upon the edge of the parade ground. We found then a hundred or more carriages and automobiles far ahead of us there, and soon nearly a thousand, each filled with gay sightseers, many American tourists. The best of order was observed among this jam of vehicles. The Vienna Police are among the best on the continent to keep order on the streets or in crowds. There must have been nearly 50,000 spectators at the pageant, and a more genially pleasant crowd could not be found anywhere. There were a large number of artillery and ambulance wagons, and a magnificent display of cavalry, in glittering uniform of various styles, mounted upon beautiful, well-trained steeds. There was also a large group of Persian officers and other elegantly garbed mounted visitors. The infantry marched well, about 50 each in two columns, or 100 to each company. All swing the right hand and arm in unison, as they march with guns slowly held by the left arm and hand. The cavalry also passed in review in the same order of fifty in each, in two lines, and appeared splendidly as the "bob tailed" pretty horses kept head to head in fine "dressy" style. Vienna is famous for its fine horses.

Everywhere in the streets I see many immense dray and cart horses. All sorts of vehicles boast of well-groomed, good-size horses. More than this I see very little cruelty to horses by drivers, and very few underfed, poor-looking horses, are to be seen in cab, cart, or even country wagon. While the many Royalty horses constantly seen upon the avenue, are superb. The Austrians appear to be a naturally kindly race. I have seen no bravos upon the streets: scarcely an angry word between drivers of vehicles in street jams and traffic, and no "drunks" among the men (or horses!) Beer is absorbed (imbibed) everywhere in all restaurants and cafes, ad libitum, and constantly, by high and low. Yet no intoxication verily to my temperance observing eyes. I lay it to the German habit of sitting down to tables in cafes and beer shops; and sipping beer moderately with the food. Not an intoxicated person to be seen to-day in all the large crowds of "the common people" seen up on the parade field or among the thousands along the streets. I could not speak so favorably of the people in many of our American cities.

The venerable Emperor Francis Joseph generally reviews the troops, but not being as well as usual, Francis Ferdinand, the Arch Duke and heir to the throne, was in the reviewing stand on this occasion. During the midst of this affair a monoplane made its appearance in the sky above us, and circled around 2000 or 3000 feet above the field for half an hour, gliding like a huge bird "skylarking" in the air. We could plainly hear the whirr of its engine as the aeroplane wheeled around and around at the will of the daring aeronaut. Soon "the God of war" may demand this aerial toy to become a war ship of the sky, to destroy with dynamite bombs the ships and cities of opposing nations. May the common sense of modern times, and a dominant Christianity prevail before such a dread ordeal, to inaugurate peaceful arbitration instead of the suicidal arbitration of war, by hail-bombs. As own by the war statistics during the reign of "armed peace," the million men now in the camps of Europe, like a whirlpool, are gradually engulfing these great ships of state, by the enormously increasing expenditures they cost nations.

As I looked this morning upon this great Viennese army of fine young men (averaging twenty-one years of age each) and reflected upon their withdrawal from industrial service to themselves, their families, and the state, I cursed the folly of war. The folly of the cost to nation of the withdrawal from productive work of a million of such men in Austria alone! The folly of training men to murder each other for the sake of peace, which should be attained by a Court of Peace. The National Arbitration by which all bloody wars have to be stopped at last. The war budget of Europe absorb an ever increasing proportion of her income. Wars doubtless have done great good, but at an enormous waste. Shall we continue to burn down our barns to destroy the rats? Is it not a ghastly joke to murder millions of young men in order to insure peace with each brother nation?

As nations become closer friends international arbitration should supersede bloodshed.

The barbarism of war may have been necessary in the dark ages of man's insane desire for conquest of other tribes and nations. Although every modern nation should doubtless possess a small army and navy, as a police force, internal as well as external, yet in this "age of Peace in Europe" among the largest nations, eight million of idle men under arms, continually, seems supreme folly. Vienna can show many war trophies. Her Armsenal, Imperial Museum, and Rathaus, are filled with thousands of medieval weapons and armour, tending to show that man has always been a fighting animal. History can be studied to advantage here in Vienna, as well as anywhere in Europe. Christendom and Europe are greatly indebted to Vienna, for twice having defeated Moslem invasion. During the last two centuries, Austria has suffered far more than she has gained by her wars. Frederick the Great and Napoleon both triumphed over Austria. Her wars during the long reign of Francis Joseph, have upon the whole been disastrous. The Emperor has however, won for himself and Austria-Hungary, many victories in the arts of peace and industrial activities. Vienna itself is a monument of glory to the power and genius of its admirable Emperor.

HENRY M. HALL.

Select Atlanta.

DEAR EDITOR:—Let me as the President of the Maryland Association of the Deaf, monopolize a small space of your valuable medium in order to express the strong sentiment of the deaf in Maryland, for Atlanta as the next place of convention of N. A. D.

It is absolutely unnecessary to assign reasons, as the splendid inducements if Atlanta have been shown up in the previous issues, and are sufficient for any of us to understand that it would be wise for the Executive Committee of the N. A. D. to choose the above named place, which will, in my opinion prove to be a wholly neutral place for all concerned. We are, as a class, comparatively few in number in comparison with hearing people, but we have been making too much noise of a character that would rather scatter the harmonizing elements which are the intent of the Convention. A roaring lion will get no game.

I am strongly convinced that it would be vastly better for us to be more frequently in the public eye by assembly every two years instead of three. In distance, if one desire to be physically strong he must have continuous exercise for the purpose of accomplishing that intention. In a business way, any demonstration of a certain thing must continue for a long time to achieve the best results. Therefore, it is easily seen that if we want the public to be well informed about our true status, etc., we must keep on reminding them of our material progress and if we do that, we will be much better understood as citizens.

GALLAUDET HOME.

When the family got up Sunday morning, April 9th, the ground was covered with a soft white mantle, having been bare for some time, but the snow soon melted away.

Rev Dr. Chamberlain officiated in the chapel, on Sunday, April 9th. He crossed the river to Newburg, came back, and the next day left for New York.

Miss Elizabeth Porter Nelson, of the Ladies' Board, spent two days here, the early part of last month. Easter cards have been received, so far as the writer can tell, from the following named deaf-mutes: Mr. Wilhelm M. Buhle, Jersey City, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. William G. Gilbert, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mrs. Minnie Ohlin Stover, Omaha, Neb.; Mrs. Justina A. Witschiet, Arlington, N. J.; Mr. Herman Beck, Brooklyn, N. Y., and Miss Gussie Berley, New York City.

Matron Jones' sister, Mrs. Lulu Duane, of Bloomingdale, Essex County, not long ago presented the Home with a lovely colored silk cushion, which is much admired.

The statement in our last letter that Mr. Gilbert Hicks, of Westbury, L. I., has within the past few years donated a hundred and twenty-five dollars to the Home was incorrect, for we lately got a message from him in which he denied it. Mr. Hicks expects, to go to Medina, Orleans County, this summer, to visit a former Fanwood lady classmate.

Tuesday afternoon, April 11th, Miss Katie A. Pott and Miss Alice Bogle drove here from the Falls. Miss Pott left a lot of pretty Easter cards, she being a member of the Ladies' Board.

Hot-beds have been arranged on the farm this Spring, to protect cabbages, tomatoes and other vegetables.

Matron Jones had a visit some weeks ago from her nephew, Mr. Halsey Jones, of Syracuse Lake, Franklin County.

Dr. Charles Foster Gardner died lately in West Hampton, L. I., after an unsuccessful operation for blood poisoning. His remains were interred in the Wappinger Falls Cemetery. Dr. Gardner was thirty-seven years old, a son of Mr. Charles Gardner, for a decade and a half in charge of the Home farm, and a brother of Superintendent Isaac Brown Gardner, of the School for the Deaf, in Little Rock, Ark. When Dr. Gardner completed a common school education he entered a military school in Claverack, Dutchess County. But he took up the study of medicine, and had his life been prolonged he would no doubt have risen to prominence.

Easter day was ushered in with sunshine, but about noon a "snow squall" came on. Mrs. Mary Van G. Foster, President of the Ladies' Board, sent colored fancy eggs, which when opened were found to contain many little white candies. Most of the egg shells are kept as ornaments, for they can be taken apart and put together again. Mr. Miner conducted a service in the chapel, where potted plants decorated the altar, and others stood on the window sill. There were no visitors during the day.

Miss Porter is back from a three-weeks' visit with hearing friends in Brooklyn.

Before noon Wednesday, April 19th, Mr. L. Whitehead, of New York, and some other gentlemen, drove through the grounds in a black auto, presumably to see about the property at Camelot, which Mr. Whitehead recently purchased. Mrs. Bayne and Mrs. Lewis were in the "Queen City" shopping a short time ago. They returned with smiling faces, which showed that they were happy.

Mr. John Nelson Lewis, of Inandale, Dutchess County, has resigned as a Trustee of the Home in connection with the farm, as he is eighty-one years old and lame. Mr. Harold Cotham was chosen to fill the vacancy. Mr. Cotham's home is on the hill somewhere near the place.

On Grant day, April 27th, Mrs. Rusk was surprised to have a call from her sister-in-law, Miss Margaret Rusk, of New York. Last winter Miss Rusk was at a sanatorium in Battle Creek, Mich., for treatment, or in the capacity of a nurse—she did not say.

George Washington Jones, eighty-one years old, on May 11th was admitted to the Home from Poughkeepsie. It was intended to place Mr. Jones on the Vassar Home for Aged Men in the city, but Mr. Van Kleech had him brought here. Mr. Jones is contented and happy, surrounded by the company he enjoys without having to resort to pencil and paper as otherwise would be the case. When Mr. Jones was young he courted Miss Maryetta Hunt, a former classmate at the New York Institution, but she died before they were married, so Mr. Jones has remained single ever since.

Saturday afternoon, the 13th, Miss Jean Macanley and two girl friends dropped in here.

We acknowledge with thanks the receipt of the Ninety-second Annual Report of the New York Institution for the Instruction of the Deaf and Dumb, which ranks among the best and foremost of its kind in the civilized world.

Remember Founders' Day, Saturday, June 3d. All will be welcome.

Mrs. Roberts reached the eighty-eighth milestone of her existence week before last. Her father came to this country from Wurtemberg, Germany, and settled in Pennsylvania, where she was born and educated.

Blind James Henry Caton is away at this writing, on a visit in Edenville, Orange County.

"Shamrock," the carriage horse, has a stablemate, which Janitor Silvernail owns and recently put in it.

LOUISE.

Obituary.

Jehu Alexander Hoge.

On the twenty-first of May occurred the death of Mr. J. A. Hoge, one of the first deaf teachers of the Alabama State School for the Deaf. He taught twenty-five years under Dr. Joseph H. Johnson, the father of the present principal, with his beloved deaf fellow-teachers, Miss Mary Toney and Mr. W. S. Johnson, who have been connected with the school forty years. All of three teachers helped the school to keep well through the dark days of the Civil War.

Mr. J. A. Hoge and Mr. W. S. Johnson both zealously joined the Confederate Army, but after only two days of service they were sent home at the earnest request of their relatives.

Mr. Hoge received his early education in the Georgia State School for the Deaf, and came down to the Alabama State School for the Deaf as boys' supervisor and also as teacher. With plenty of money wisely summed up, he retired from the school some years ago to spend the rest of his life comfortably and peacefully in Rockmart, Ga. He was in very good health and could have lived many years longer. He was seventy when he died from a sudden internal disorder.

He was human, simple, warm-hearted, earnest, and blessed with kindly humor. He won him many friends. He always beat the drummers in story-telling when they came up to emulate him.

An Interview With Pad and Pencils.

A few days ago the reporter of the Republican, who is assigned to the city hotels, approached a man seated in the lobby of the Commercial. He asked for an interview, but was waved away by a gesture which said: "I am a deaf-mute, and can't talk to you." It was ascertained that the man was named Henry C. White, who has been in Phoenix since last August. He came from Boston to the Salt River Valley, and has been conducting a small school for deaf-mutes on West Washington Street.

Yesterday he sat in the lobby again, and this time was approached by different tactics. The interview was asked for on the paper of a small pad, and was given on sheets of the same, the reporter writing his question and Mr. White writing his answer underneath. He sat in his comfortable chair, giving courteous answer to every inquiry, and manifesting every desire to clear up the mystery which always hangs about the head of a man who is unable to tell the things ordinarily disclosed by even the most astute and conservative of business men.

It was learned that there was a definite object in Mr. White's visit to Phoenix, and that he had come to Arizona for the purpose of furthering a public enterprise of importance. In the answer to the first question he gave the gist of the information that followed in greater detail. He was asked to state his business, and wrote in reply: "I am waiting for the next legislature to establish a school for the deaf children of the territory, and in the meantime I have been teaching a day school on West Washington."

He was asked to state what success he had had with his school, and replied: "I have a number of pupils, and have received application from several others, out of the city, but I have been unable to take them, for I have no suitable boarding place for them, and could not provide suitable accommodation. Upon being asked to outline the necessity for a territorial institution for the deaf and dumb, he wrote in reply:

"There is as much necessity here as there is anywhere. There are large numbers of mutes in Arizona, and a place ought to be provided where we can be well cared for and receive instruction."

"Do you believe such a school will be established?" was asked.

"I do. The constitutional convention authorized the building of the institution, and Congress has made a grant of 100,000 acres to such a school."

If the territorial school for the deaf and dumb is established, it is probable that Mr. White will be a member of the faculty, as he is well qualified to teach in an institution of the kind. He has had wide experience among people afflicted as he is himself, and is interested in bettering their condition, and giving them a better opportunity to overcome an obstacle, which to a normal man or woman, possessing both hearing and speech, would seem almost insurmountable.—Arizona Republican.

MAINE.

Raph H. Friend, only child of Dr. George E. and Blanche M. Friend, of Augusta, Me., passed to the higher life in Portland, Me., at three o'clock, Saturday morning, May 6th, of pneumonia after an illness of only five days. He was born in Gardiner, Me., on December 27, 1892, in 1895 removed to Augusta, Me., with his parents. He entered the Maine School for Deaf, at age five years, and had been in constant attendance there for thirteen years, in four weeks. He would have graduated from his school with high honors next June. His untimely death comes as a great shock to his parents and many friends, and his sweet heart, Elmira Reardon, of Holyoke, Mass., for his bright, sunny, lovable disposition and his never failing kindness to others during his short life. He had endeared himself to every one who knew him. He was a leading spirit in his school and the deep love in which he was held, and was manifest in the sad but beautiful service held there on Saturday morning, when the pastor who frequently conducts service at his school held a brief memorial in the presence of the teachers and 100 deaf children. Miss Taylor, the principal of his school, interpreted the service for them in the hand language while he was talking, so that all the deaf children might be comforted by his words. Besides his sorely affected parents, he leaves a grandmother whom he was much attached and other relatives, Elmira Reardon is feeling bad to lose her best friend, Ralph. They were engaged to be married this summer.

Elmira Reardon and Adrien Chevrete, son of Hilarie Chevrete, were confirmed on May 31st, at Sacred Heart Church.

Holyoke people will go to Augusta to attend the Deaf-Mutes Mission in August.

An Illegal Committee.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—I beg leave to call the attention of N. A. D. members among your readers to the following excerpt from the Constitution of the Association, and which is the sole provision in that document providing for the disbursement of funds:

Article V. Sec. 2. * * * * It (the Executive Committee) shall have power to appropriate any available funds of the Association for purposes tending to promote its welfare. No expenditure, not directly authorized by the Association in convention, shall be made without its (the Executive Committee,) consent.

The words in Italics are an amendment adopted at Norfolk. This amendment was framed by myself and introduced at my instance. Its intention was to make the Committee, as a whole, a finance committee, and to make its consent obligatory before any disbursements could be made.

The finance committee of three recently authorized by the Executive Committee is therefore illegal, as it gives to three members or a minority fraction of the Committee a function that is expressly vested in the Committee as a whole.

I would respectfully suggest that the Executive Committee proceed with caution in this matter, that it reconsider its action, and that it do not commit itself to a course that must be stigmatized as contrary to the intent of the Constitution of the Association.

Respectfully,
GEORGE W. VEDITZ,
COLORADO SPRINGS, May, 20.

P. S. A. D. Convention.

The following circular appeal has been issued to the deaf of Pennsylvania:

At the last meeting of the Pennsylvania Society for the Advancement of the Deaf in Reading, it was decided to celebrate the thirtieth anniversary of the Society in Harrisburg, its birthplace, this summer, August 24-26. And in no better way could the Society think of celebrating this interesting event than through a special anniversary offering for the Home for Aged and Infirmed Deaf of Doylestown. Much enthusiasm was shown in the project, and Mr. William McKinney, of Philadelphia in seconding the proposition handed in thirty dollars—one dollar for each year of the Society's age.—This was followed by a similar contribution from Mr. Henry J. Haight, and to date pledges and cash contributions amounting to over $300 have been made.

Now while no limit is placed on the amount of contribution to be expected from each member of the Society, we will gladly receive and acknowledge any amount, whether it be less than five dollars or more than thirty dollars.

No one should be ashamed to give a small amount, if his means do not allow of a larger amount, and we hope no one will be afraid to give as much as his purse will allow.

But the celebration of the Thirtieth Anniversary of the Society will be made interesting in other ways. Speeches, excursions, picnics, and probably a banquet will be arranged for to make the meeting truly a memorable one.

You may send your contribution for the Anniversary Offering now through the Treasurer of your Local Branch, or direct to the Society's Treasurer, the Rev. B. H. Allabough, 405 Ella Street, Wilkesburg, Pa., or you may make the offering at the Convention when an imposing gathering to be followed by the passing around of a Contribution box, will be arranged for.

Hoping to see you at the Convention, we are

Fraternally yours,
C. O. DANTZER,
J. S. REIDER,
THOMAS BRENN,
Committee.

Commonwealth Club.

BOSTON, MASS., May 31, 1911.—They could and did come back. That was certainly the universal verdict of a large crowd of spectators, who witnessed the game between the Commonwealth team and the Prospect Union's strong nine, on the grounds of the latter in Cambridge, on Saturday afternoon, May 27th.

From the time that W. Allard opened up with a terrific two-bagger till Hart struck out the last Prospect Union player, the Commonwealth team had the latter on the run for their lives in every stage of the game. At the finish, the Commonwealth had 23 runs to their credit, while the Prospect Union could only muster but 5.

In the opening of the game, and in order to get away ahead of their opponents in matter of scoring, the Commonwealth set an awful pace and before the third man was declared out in the first inning, had tallied six runs to their good, but after that, in order to make the game man interesting, they gathered themselves together and played very fast and full of snappy plays, the fielding of Roberts and Sava being the star features of the game, the latter pulled down several long flies from W. Allard's and Capt. Craig's bats in deep left garden.

In the ninth inning, with two out, no one on base and not a run scored, some body said something unpleasantly that "dummies" could not play ball after all, Piteher Henry was sent in to bat for Harrigan and banged out a two-base hit and a fearful onslaught commenced right there and continued until ten runs were secured.

Major Beauchene, of West Somerville, Mass., and Prof. R. Mulcahy, of Harvard College, officiated at the game as umpires and gave entire satisfaction. Mr. Samuel C. Pavitt acted as official scorer. The summaries:—

It is with pleasure we make an announcement that President A. E. Beauchene of the Commonwealth Athletic Club has already selected a committee of seven most popular members, Mr. Washington D. Ache-son as chairman and Mr. P. J. Thibodeau as Field Marshall, to arrange and perfect all plans for the greatest Field Day and picnic in the history of the club, same to take place on Tuesday, July 4th. The place and full particulars to be made public later in this paper. Watch for it!

There is expected to be a mile relay team race between several clubs for a handsome cup. A fifteen mile marathon race for a silver loving cup and championship of New England States for the Deaf. Strictly amateurs only.

Also a red-hot game of base-ball between the Commonwealth Athletic Club and the Horace Mann Benevolent Association for the championship of Greater Boston. Besides the above, there will be on the programme, various refined games, full of fun, frolic and exciting, for valuable prizes for both ladies and gentlemen.

Our past records are a guarantee of satisfaction.

SPANISH KING'S SON DUMB FROM BIRTH

QUEEN TO TAKE DON JAIME TO A SWISS EXPERT IN HOPE OPERATION MAY CURE.

MADRID, May 27.—Despite previous official denials, the World correspondent is able to state on positive authority that Don Jaime, the second son of the King and Queen of Spain, has been dumb from birth, and is deficient in hearing, though not totally deaf.

The boy will be three years old next month. The Queen has arranged to take him shortly to a celebrated Swiss specialist to determine whether the infirmity can be cured by an operation. The Spanish surgical experts have taken offense at the determination of the Queen to seek advice outside of Spain, though nothing is commoner than for doctors of one nationality to recommend to their patients those of another nationality.

The Queen, who bears the reputation of having a somewhat unyielding nature, adheres to her resolve to take her child to a Swiss doctor, in a matter of such paramount importance not only to her but to the whole royal family.

Don Jaime is a fine looking youngster but he has a conformation of the mouth often seen in persons whose speech is effected. King Alfonso is particularly attached to him.—N. Y. World.

Obituary

Mrs. Wilson M. Head of Madison, N. Y., passed away at her home on April the twenty-third. She had been suffering for more than a year with cancer and death came as a release.

The funeral took place on April the twenty-sixth, and the remains were conveyed to Hamilton, where they were interred in Woodlawn cemetery.

Mrs. Head was born in Harrisville, Lewis Co., and received her education at the Panwood School for the Deaf in New York City. She was sixty-two years of age.

Besides her husband, she leaves one daughter, Mrs. Bert Snyder, of Hamilton; also another brother and a grand-daughter who have the sympathy of their friends in their bereavement.

IRRIGATION OF THE AIR—One of the deaf and dumb pupils of Mr. Henry C. White's school the other day accounted in a novel way for the unprecedented cool May weather in this valley by saying "The Roosevelt dam did it."—Arizona Republican.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gunner are rejoicing in their home at Morgan Park, Ill. The stork called on them on May 30th, and left a little boy who will be known as William Rudolph Gunner.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Edith P. Gray to Thomas Samuel Hutton, at Birmingham, N. Y., on Saturday, June 3d.

GALLAUDET COLLEGE.

The Gallaudet team lost the second game with the Maryland Agricultural College at Brookland, May 24th. The Kendall Green lads were all to the bad, and the Aggies had no trouble in rolling up a 10 to 1 score. Moore, who took Battiste's place in the box, was unable to stem the tide, and errors were made by the bushel behind him, so the game went to the Maryland boys. Smith, pitching for the Aggies, held the lid down tight so Gallaudet did not get even a peep.

Pitcher Engel proved too much for Gallaudet Saturday, at Emmittsburg, Md. Besides striking out twelve aspiring batsmen and allowing but five hits, the twirler led his team at the bat, getting a three-sacker and two bingles out of four times up. Errors also contributed to the shattering of Gallaudet's hopes. Moore was hit freely the first two sessions, but then a change of delivery was tried and after the third, Mt. St. Mary's found him a puzzler. But the mischief had been done and try as they might, the visitors could make no more than two tallies. Pipe the details:

With the first team away, the Reserves furnished the excitement at Kendall Green, with the Naval Medical School as their opponents. Though they outbatted the Medicos, the Reserves lost, 12 to 11. The game was in doubt until the very last inning, first one side and then the other being ahead. Durian was put in the box at first for the Reserves, but was hit too freely to suit, so Hughes was substituted and did creditable work. The latter also performed well with the stick.

Hogle, '13, seems determined to live things up on the Green. To that purpose, he has acquired a 'steep cat-power motor-bike and is racing round daring every cop he passes to put him in the cooler.

Dr. Gallaudet made his farewell appearance Sunday, the 28th. Notice had been posted several days before and the chapel was packed with alumni and students, when the Doctor rose to speak. He took as his text, the great Sermon on the Mount, and dwelt with particular emphasis on the Beatitudes—St. Matthew, 5. With clear and forceful words, he drove deep into the hearts of his listeners, the words of his "Elder Brother," and put forward as our model He that is Himself Perfect. In conclusion, he spoke of his long and close connection with the College and his heartfelt regret at bidding farewell to his home for half-a-century. The Doctor was himself moved and there was many a moist eye in the audience. We would like to give his address in whole, but as always happens when one listens to a good speaker, the words are lost in the ideas. Besides fully half the interest that centers about such a speech is roused by the speaker himself and the way the speech is delivered.

After Dr. Gallaudet's prayer, the students—who had been previously advised of something doing—remained in their places, and Miss Peet and Dr. Draper came to the platform, and the latter in signs, the former interpreting, in the name of the Faculty and officers of the College presented Dr. Gallaudet with a beautiful gold watch—to mark off, as we hope, many more pleasant hours. The Doctor in reply, said he was so surprised and so overcome that he could think of naught but the good old English "I thank you."

As the close of college comes nearer, more and more do we find Harris, '12, stragely indifferent to aught in the way of literature save one thing—railroad time-tables and folders. To tell the truth, it is our fond belief that the Southerner gets fully as much pleasure—if not more—from said literature than from the trip itself. Hunter, '14, has already departed for Morgantown, N. C., the proud leader of a fair-sized exodus to-be.

Interest in field Day is on the increase, now that the baseball season is almost over. The last game will be played Tuesday, with Catholic University, and after that, the diamond will be deserted for the track. President Hall has donated a sum of money to be used to purchase a trophy to be known as the "Hall Trophy." This is to go to the class making the highest number of points.

Once more the Death Angel has visited us and left behind a cloud of gloom that overshadows the sorrowing friends. Saturday, June 3d, Baxter W. Mosey, a member of the class of 1911, was drowned in the Potomac River near the Chain Bridge. The following from the Washington Post gives the full details of the tragedy:—

Responding to cries for help from Baxter William Mosey, of Evans-ton, Wyo., a senior of Gallaudet College, who was drowned in the Potomac River near Chain bridge at noon yesterday, T. L. Anderson, a student of the same college, made heroic effort to save the young man.

In doing so he narrowly escaped being dragged to the bottom of the river during a desperate struggle with the drowning boy.

When Anderson reached his fellow student, Mosey was frantically struggling and screaming for help. Mosey grappled with his would-be rescuer, throwing his arms around Anderson in such a manner as to make him helpless.

The two sank beneath the surface of the water. Then a desperate struggle was begun by Anderson, who, while trying to save himself from death, hoped to rescue his fellow-student. Anderson managed to free his right arm and struck Mosey several times in the face.

This was effective. Anderson then grabbed his helpless friend and made effort to rise to the surface of the water, but his exhausted condition prevented, and he had to abandon Mosey at the bottom of the river.

Mosey had gone with his fellow-members of the Kappa Gamma Fraternity at Gallaudet on their annual outing. On arriving at Chain bridge, the college men organized a swimming party.

T. L. Anderson crossed the river, probably a hundred yards wide at that point, and while he was sitting on the rocks resting, Mosey, who had little experience in the water, started to join him.

When within 50 feet of Anderson, who was encouraging him, Mosey uttered a piercing scream, and then sank, and Anderson sprang to his assistance.

During the struggle between Mosey and Anderson beneath the water, other members of the party rushed to the scene in boats. After Anderson had been pulled from the water an attempt was made to rescue the body of Mosey. The efforts of the college boys failed, however, until Anderson had recovered his strength, when he dived into the river again and brought the body to the surface. Both were dragged into boats and a race for medical assistance began.

Dr. William Gwynn, attending physician of Georgetown Hospital, was summoned, and not until artificial respiration had been used for two hours was hope of resuscitation abandoned.

President Hall, of Gallaudet, has notified Mosey's parents of the accident, and it is probable the student's father will come to Washington and take the body home.

Mosey was 22 years old. He was well known in local athletic circles, having been a wrestler of considerable note. He was lightweight champion of the South Atlantic division of the A. A. U. Within three weeks he was to have received his diploma from Gallaudet, with the degree of B. S.

The Post omitted to mention that Anderson came near losing his own life in the effort to bring up the body of the unfortunate Mosey, but was helped by another student, Michael Lapides with whose assistance the body was recovered from its watery tomb.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in the college chapel, and the body, in accordance with the telegraphed instructions of relatives has been sent home for burial. The deceased had made a good record in his college years, specially in the scientific and chemical studies. All who knew him mourn his untimely end. But as Dr. Fay read from the Book, "I am the resurrection and the life." We but say an revoir, adieu; till we meet again.

Gallaudet closed her season Decoration Day with a defeat from Catholic University. The game was in reality much better than the score 10 to 4 would indicate. Save in one inning, the fatal fourth, the Catholics found Gallaudet a Tartar. In that session, the University lads found Moore and his support weakened to the extend of eight runs, enough to win any game. Greene for the Brookland boys was in fine fettle and struck out seven men though the opposing batsmen connected with ten of his shoots safely. Ryan for the University lads made a home run while his teammates got a three bagger and three doubles.

Score by innings.

The last meeting of the Literary Society for the year was a hummer, in more senses than one.

Though there were only two entries on the chart, it was a neck and neck finish with big bunches of interest all along the route. Valdeictorian E. D. Talbert took as his subject, "The Future Works of the College-Educated Deaf." Yes, we said works. Teaching, printing, farming, the professions—all passed under review and each received its due share of attention. "Tab" made an impassioned plea for the opening of the Normal department to the deaf graduates of Gallaudet—so impassioned that we were still wondering how the reading-desk stood the strain.

"Tommlie" Anderson, our famed after dinner speaker and "Friends and fellow countrymen" orator, then took up the cudgels in behalf of the Thermopylae—did we get it right Tom? no time to look it up in Mr. Webster's spelling book—of America, the Texas Alamo. He rebuked our ignorance with his fiery eloquence and lauded to the skies the defenders of the above-mentioned Texan T-h-e-r-r-m-o-p-y-l-a-e. He raked the dead ashes with a relentless hand and dragged facts after facts and then some fancies out of the dust of oblivion to regale our thirsty senses therewith. And lastly he thundered forth "Thermopylae had her messenger of defeat—the Alamo had none!"

PHILADELPHIA.

News items for this column should be sent to James S. Reider, 1538 North Dover Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

On Saturday evening, June 3d, annual Strawberry and Ice Cream Festival of the Pastoral Aid Society of All Souls' Church for the Deaf was given in the large Guild Room of the Church. It was largely attended by our deaf, and they were well repaid for their little investment. Dancing and games preceded the serving of the refreshments and a pleasant social time was enjoyed by everybody present. A good profit was realized from the event, but the amount is not yet known.

Owing to the reappearance of Typhoid Fever, the officials of the Mt. Airy School decided to close the school last week rather than take the risk of keeping pupils beyond the term. By the end of this week all pupils will have gone home. The school usually closes of the latter part of June.

The deaf of northeastern Pennsylvania are planning to hold their annual picnic on August 5th, at Shamokin, Pa., this year.

Mr. Abram Frantz gave a reading of "Othello," before the Clerical Literary Association, last Thursday evening, June 1st. His delivery was so good as to surprise many of his friends and others.

On Tuesday evening, June 20th, the Men's Club of All Souls' Church will give a reception to the wives and lady friends of the members at All Souls' Hall. It is an annual event and marks the close of the Club until the Fall.

Miss Irene Syle, daughter of Mrs. M. J. Syle, was one of six bridesmaids at the fashionable wedding of Mr. Percy B. Strassburger and Miss Mary Alice Birchall, at St. Michael's Episcopal Church in Germantown, on Saturday evening, 3d of June.

Mr. Patrick McLaughlin, who was severely injured recently, is still at the Jewish Hospital, but expects to go home soon. He is an employee of the Water Bureau.

Mrs. Joseph Mayer has joined her husband in Orange, N. J., and may reside there permanently. Mr. Mayer is employed in a hat factory at that place.

Mr. Andrew Leitch visited Baltimore, his former place, for a few days recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Wilson visited the latter's home folks in Wilmington, Del., over Memorial Day.

Mrs. Emma J. Jones, of Royersford, Pa., attended the Strawberry Festival at All Souls' last Saturday.

Mr. Laib Hamburg spent several days in New York recently.

Mr. Harper Leidy will go to Atlantic City about June 15th, to remain until the Fall. His brother and another man will conduct a public boat house at that place.

All Souls' people will hold their annual picnic in Snyder's Woods again, on July 8th next. The place is near the Oxford and Columbia Avenue entrances to Fairmont Park.

The following deaf deserve credit for the successful Strawberry Festival of St. Joseph's Catholic Deaf-Mute Society on May 27th: Mr. Francis Brady, Miss Miladia Oneil Chairman, Miss Katie Scott, Mr. Francis Feighan, Mr. James Lynch, Mr. Wm Lefe, Mrs. Miladia Mayer, Mrs. Rose Weency, Miss Catherine Cannon, Mrs. J. McGahan.

Alexander S. McGree and John A. Roach returned home from their pleasant visit in the National Capital last Tuesday night. They had to abandon taking the excursion to Colonial Beach with the Deaf of Washington on Memorial Day, owing to the inconveniently late hour scheduled for the arrival of the boat in the evening. They visited Mount Vernon instead on that day. They found all of the Mt. Airy boys and girls doing very well at Gallaudet College.

PITTSBURG.

A PRIZE OF $400!

Great joys with surprises! Our hard work gets rewarded. With this money, we can inaugurate the work completed. When we entered the contest and proceed to enjoy the fruits of our labors.

When, on January 23d, the Gazette-Times announced that it would give away $5,000 in gold to fifteen different organizations, this should be cordially greeted by many deaf people, for that they should know that much good could be accomplished by the use of the prize money. Everyone of us read this announcement and threw it aside, without any serious consideration, with the exception of Mr. J. M. Rolhouse, who insisted that the Pittsburgh Local Branch, P. S. A. D., should enter the contest. He called Mr. W. F. Durian, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, and President H. Bards' attention to the announcement. They considered it for a time, until they decided to enter the contest. It was a week after the beginning of the contest.

The first ballot was printed Wednesday, January 25th, and from that date until April 30th, when the last ballot was printed, there was no cessation of interest in the contest among the deaf people and their hearing friends. Those actively engaged in securing coupons and subscriptions, found it easy work (?) to start their campaign.

At the house of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Durian, thousands of coupons poured in every day, and it kept Mr. and Mrs. Durian, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bards, very busy to put the coupons in their neat form, and to count them into packages of 1000 votes. Rev. Allabough had a system to call at many houses and collect the coupons once in every three days. Among the best workers, who turned in large numbers of votes every week, were: Messrs. Vogely, J. C. Taylor, F. Farke, Miss Falch, J. M. Rolhouse, and many others. The mailing of coupons from nearby towns helped a great deal, and we expressed gratitude to Mr. Frank Widaman, of Greensburg, for sending the largest number of votes, which we received through mail. Mr. Gettins was making good as Coupon Collector.

Many times the Committee was informed by some other organizations of their "already collected number" of votes, which was from two to six times larger than ours, but the Committee paid no attention to their claims, and in fact we found their claims were all a fake.

For three weeks, after the close of the contest, every one was very anxious to know of the result until May 21st, which was the date of announcing the names of the winners. To the great joy of everyone, when the Gazette-Times announced that the Pittsburgh Local Branch, P. S. A. D., won a prize of $400 as the second prize. There are three classes: A, Labor and Fraternal; B, Church and Charitable; C, Social and Athletic. Our Branch was in Class B. Out of 107 organizations, our Branch stands fifth for collecting the largest number of votes. Our Branch's record is 721,030 votes and Four Hundred Dollars!

The letter received from the Manager of the Times, is given below:

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE-TIMES, PITTSBURGH, May 20th, 1911.

MR. W. F. DURIAN, Pittsburgh Branch for the Advancement of the Deaf, 405 Ella Street, Wilkinsburg, Pa.

DEAR SIR—It gives us great pleasure to enclose a check for Four Hundred Dollars in payment of the prize won by your organization in the Gazette-Times $5000 in Gold Contest. We send a check as the most convenient means of transmitting the prize money to you. If you wish gold for it, please present it at this office and the exchange will be made.

We congratulate your organization on its success and hope that you will be able to use the money to good advantage for the benefit of your members.

With best wishes for your welfare, we beg to remain

Very truly yours,
The Pittsburgh Gazette-Times
GEORGE S. OLIVER, Manager.

This $400 will go to the Endowment Fund of the P. S. A. D. Society at the Doylestown Home, if upon approval of the Branch at its regular business meeting.

BORROWED TO PAY GIRL.

In part, the Gazette-Times said that as a last act before consigning his business to a Trust, following the failure of his bank, John Bada, a foreign Banker of Duquesne, protected the fortune of Miss Elizabeth Toat, a girl who is a deaf-mute. Bada left Duquesne penniless, it is said, but he deposited in the First National Bank of Duquesne, the sum of $685.14, which was Miss Toat's deposit in Bada's bank, and which he did not want her to lose. All the money she had in the world was in Bada's bank. Miss Toat's mother was burned to death sixteen years ago, while lighting a fire. Her father met a similar death. He was burned to death by a cinder explosion in the steel mills.

When Bada felt the impending disaster to his bank, his mind reverted to Miss Toat because of her great handicap in her struggle against the world. It is said, that Bada borrowed the money, which he deposited in another bank to the credit of Miss Toat. Mrs. Bada gave the bank book to Miss Toat two days before the crash came.

Miss Toat was a former pupil of the Edgewood School for the Deaf, and many of her friends are delighted at her luck, and also express gratitude to Mr. Bada for his thoughtfulness of the case.

Supt. Dobyns, of Mississippi, was a recent visitor at the Edgewood School for the Deaf, and was interested in the school work. He explained to the teachers, at a reception given in his honor, about the coming convention of teachers at Delavan, Wis.

Death called Mr. J. C. Taylor's aged father away after a short term of illness. Friends sympathize with him upon his loss.

J. M. Rolhouse and F. Leitner made a visit at the City Home at Claremont, Pa., last week. They were led through many wards, and found that there are three deaf-mutes. From the way these inmates talked, they seem to like the life at their home, although they act a little insane.

At the Pittsburgh Local Branch Hall, the play, entitled "Negro Life," was given before a large audience. The Committee had this play rehearsed so well before the play was given at the Hall. The cast is as follows:

Mr. Legree a Slave Master.....	B. Allabough
Sam a Slave.....	H. Bards
Sam a Slave.....	F. Leitner
Aunt Dinah.....	Mrs. W. Durian
Cousin Topsy.....	Mrs. W. Sawhill
Jim Pomp, a Niece Man.....	Geo. P. Grimm
The Auctioneer.....	Mr. G. M. Teegarden
"Abraham Lincoln".....	Mr. C. Sawhill
The Schoolmaster.....	B. Allabough

SYNOPSIS OF THE PLAY.

BEFORE THE CIVIL WAR.

SCENE I. Farm Scene. Cruelties of Legree. Slaves auctioned off. Appearance of Lincoln.

SCENE II. Lincoln's office. Instructions given to Agent, F. Blackwell and his two soldiers—T. Gorman and R. Durian. Read news of battles at different places. The "Emancipation." "Rejoicing."

AFTER THE CIVIL WAR.

SCENE III.—School Scene. Allabough as a teacher. Ill feelings shown between the negro pupils and the "whites." School fights. The Trustees' meeting in the school-room. Decides to send the colored pupils away.

SCENE IV.—Dancings, cake-walks, etc. Bards' efforts to steal a melon spoiled by a traveller.

SCENE V.—Church. Leitner as preacher. Against gambling, drink and dice, etc. During prayer, Bards took a big roster out of the preacher's pocket.

Mr. Geo. F. Grimm made a beautiful rendition of "My Old Home" in signs, and at the close he was applauded. Mrs. Sawhill and Mrs. Durian closed the play with a comic poem, "Dixieland."

Mrs. Durian, as Aunt Dinah, acted very good, but oh, how Mr. Bards, as a slave, was really the best actor. He was the centre of attraction throughout the play. Mrs. Sawhill and Mr. Grimm helped to make the play a success with their parts in the play. On the whole the play was well given, and the committee wished to thank Messrs. Gorman, Blackhall, R. Durian, Rolhouse, and W. Durian, for their willingness to take part a little in this play. A good sum was realized. Lemonade and cakes were served by the ladies of the committee. F. A. Leitner was the stage-manager of the play.

Mrs. W. Durian, who allowed the preacher, Mr. Leitner, to use the big "Leg-horn Rooster" for the play, donated it to be Branch to be auctioned off. Mr. Gillooly was the lucky bidder, and then he presented the rooster to the players for their good efforts that they can cook it to eat. Thanks to Mr. Gillooly.

Mr. and Mrs. Monnah, of Canton, O., attend the play. Both were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Durian.

The Gazette Times has this article:

Yesterday was reception day at the new building of the De Paul Institute for Deaf-Mutes, in Brooklyn, and a large number of relatives and friends of the pupils and patrons of the school were present at what is known at the annual May reception day. With the exception of the benediction given by Rev. Father Coakley, of St. Paul's Cathedral, there was no program of any sort. The De Paul Institution, which was first located on Troy Hill, is a model of its kind. The institution has succeeded ever since its organization. Bishop Canevin said the first mass in the building Saturday morning. The present building is erected on a 25-acre tract of ground which cost $40,000.

July 4th, 1911, is the date for all day's big picnic and outing on the grounds at the Edgewood School for the Deaf, under the auspices of the Pittsburgh Local Branch, P. S. A. D. Come one! Come all! but no fireworks!!

NEW YORK.

News items for this column, should be sent direct to the DRAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter or on a postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

Founder's Day was appropriately observed at the Gallaudet Home, Wappinger Falls, N. Y., Saturday, June 3d. On the early morning train that left the Grand Central Depot for Camelot were Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Chamberlain, Miss Virginia B. Gallaudet, Mr. Bostwick, Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Willis, Mr. H. G. Wisner and many other hearing friends of the Home, besides Mr. Edwin a Hodgson, F. W. Nubner, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Thomas and their children William and Murray, Rev. John H. Keiser, Samuel Frankenstein, Henry Kohlman, Mrs. Felix Simonson, Mrs. H. J. Haight, Sarah Howard, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Elsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Juhling, Mr. and Mrs. William Gilbert and their daughter. Mrs. Bella Bensinger, came over from Poughkeepsie, as did several others. Arriving at the Home, the visitors spent some time renewing acquaintances among the old folks there, and inspecting the buildings and grounds. The new barn and large chicken house were objects of interest, as was the farm, now in a high state of cultivation. Down near the river where there are about eighty acres of woodland the visitors saw the preparations for quarrying the valuable limestone that has been discovered, and further on, the place where several acres have been leased to a New York firm for the moulding sand it contains. If the project now under advisement goes through, the Home will part with some eighty acres of waste land, at a handsome sum, with fifteen acres of rich farm land thrown in. The endowment fund will then be brought close to the $200,000 mark.

After an excellent lunch, a short service was held in the little chapel by Rev. Dr. Chamberlain, assisted by Rev. Mr. Keiser, and in a few well chosen words Dr. Chamberlain paid a glowing tribute to the founder of the Home.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Gilbert of Brooklyn, N. Y., presented the home with a handsome portrait of Dr. Gallaudet, in a massive gilt frame. It now hangs in the dining room. It was made when Dr. Gallaudet was seventy-seven years old and is a remarkably faithful likeness.

Most of the visitors took the 2:30 train back to the city, but several remained till late in the afternoon. All had a very pleasant time and were much impressed with the excellent way the Home is managed, the comfort and happiness of the family, the excellent food and care they receive, and few left without leaving behind them substantial reminders in the shape of cheeks and money to help along the good cause.

Early Saturday evening, a meeting was held in the vestry room of St. Ann's Church, at which Rev. Mr. Keiser presided, and arrangements were made looking toward the celebration of Gallaudet Day, on Saturday, December 9th, 1911. The celebration will take the form of a monster reception and banquet under the auspices of the deaf-mute organizations in Greater New York and vicinity. Those who attended the meeting promised to lay the matter before their organizations and arrange for representatives to the Central Executive Committee. Those present at preliminary meeting were, Messrs. C. J. LeClercq, Felix Simonson, Theo. Lounsbury, Alfred C. Stern, Paul Kaes, William Renner, and Adolph Pfandler. As soon as delegates have been chosen and the chairman pro tem, Rev. Mr. Keiser notified another meeting will be held and active preparations begun.

A short time ago Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Chamberlain tendered a reception to the members of this year's Confirmation Class, at their cosy residence on 145th Street. About twenty-five were present and thoroughly enjoyed the occasion. Marvels in millinery were evolved from squares of colored tissue paper and worn throughout the evening, then all tried their skill at drawing a gig blindfolded and several other games helped speed the hours all too quickly. A short, characteristic address by Dr. Chamberlain followed, in which he urged on the members of the class the responsibilities of the Christian life, and the importance of cultivating the fruits of the spirit, above those of materialistic tendencies so omnipresent in these days. He wished them all to consider him as their friend, his home as always open to them, and himself and all his powers and faculties at their service, and to come to him fully freely and frankly whenever they had need of advice or help. A dainty collation was served, and the party broke up at about eleven after thanking the good Doctor and his wife for the very enjoyable evening.

Last Monday night, May 29th, Farmer Syl Fogarty, of the Locust Lawn Homestead, and a warm friend, H. Pierce Kane, of the N. F. S. D., (the initials stand here for the National Farmer's Society of the Deaf) undertook to pass muster on the pretties and most unique costumes worn by a party of seventy-five or more lady guests of the Xavier Club, at the latter's Barn Dance, held in the Gymn of the club on the main street of the Village of Manhattan, known as Fourteen.

Both gentlemen were the centre of a fusillade of very cute remarks, Goo-Goo eyes and other feminine wiles only pretty girls know how to make use of. Withal they manfully withstood the assault, and after announcing their decision, "beat it" for the exit from the Gymn in a way that foretold they were somewhat perturbed over the result, which gave Miss Minnie Dundon the prize for the unique dress and Miss Agnes K. O'Brien the other end of their decision.

It was at eight to the second when the piano was set in motion by the nimble digits of Harry Smythe who works alongside Frank Thompson, that erstwhile Bound Brook gentleman farmer, in a big insurance house down near Bowling Green, and the strains of a two-step filled the air, with a dozen or more couples quick to respond to the inducement of the strains on a well waxed floor.

From then, on to eleven-thirty, the dancing held forth with little intermission, the athletic members of the Cherry X organization being seemingly tireless.

Farmer Hugo, otherwise Schmidt, who looks after the club's stable of time killers on the cinder path, had charge of the "Saw Wood" contest, which proved popular with the town's young people.

At taking tickets, Famer John O'Donnell with his namesake, Joe, and Andrew Mattes, did great service, while in the hay-loft, Aunt Mandy, helped out by Misses Nora Joyce, Emily Hopping, and Mrs. Lillian Brown, from across the ferry to Brooklyn, kept all who sat at their table in good humor with ice cream, sugar wafers, lady fingers and ice cooled H2—O.

Altogether the one hundred and seventy-five present enjoyed themselves to the limit. What more need be said? Well, the Surds, the Hollands, the Clark House, the Frats, the De l'Epee Society, St. Peter's and the Hebrew Society of the Deaf were in evidence by representation.

Rev. Mr. McDonnell, of St. Joseph's Seminary, conducted the deaf-mute service at St. Francis Xavier's last Sunday, giving a short but interesting sermon on the Feast of Pentecost. He made note of the success of Father McCarthy's St. Louis Mission.

The deaf of New Jersey and elsewhere in this vicinity may feel assured of a cordial welcome from the members of St. Peter's Society on the occasion of their closing exercises and reception in St. Peter's Hall, corner Grand and Van Vorst Street, Jersey City, next Sunday, at 3 P. M.

With Father McCarthy's presence, an interesting resume of his fortnight's western trip will prove an attraction in itself. President Thomas Egan will preside, and a chorus of young ladies will recite in signs an appropriate selection. Other numbers will be presented on the stage, with ice cream as a parting number of the hall programme. The services in the Church will be preceded by a silent wedding, with Mr. John C. Reilly and Mrs. Frederica Cosgrove the principals.

Miss Lizzie Malloy mourns the loss of her sister-in-law, who died in childbirth, leaving an infant son to survive her. The little one gives promise of growing strong and healthy, and the father, Mr. John Malloy, a well known court attendant, also feels keenly the loss of his wife.

The Annual Strawberry Festival of the Guild of Silent Workers at St. Ann's Church, Saturday evening, was a highly successful affair from every standpoint. Fully one hundred and fifty were present when the curtain went up on the original farce, "A Night in a Pullman," presented by a company of amateur actors, drawn from the several Church organizations. The plot hinged on two clowns, who becoming separated from the rest of the circus, are compelled to catch a midnight train. Their presence in the sleeper results in a series of pranks that keep the occupants of the car in an uproar till the conductor finally gets rid of them, not without considerable trouble to himself. To say that the audience enjoyed it is putting it mildly. They were in a convulsion of merriment all the time, and as a laugh producer they unanimously pronounced it a success, a rising vote being taken, because hands were otherwise occupied, holding aching sides. The farce required only two rehearsals, and then the participants ran off with the plot and told the stage-manager to "go way back and sit down." They were fully qualified to manage themselves, and did so to the vast relief of the manager, and the resultant delight of the audience. Below is the cast:—

Tony Two Clowns..... W. Renner
Beppe..... A. C. Stern
Conductor..... W. G. Jones
Brakeman..... C. Pelgel
Porter..... H. Pfandler
Band..... W. S. Abrams, E. C. Ellis
Passenger..... W. W. Thomas, A. Enger.

After the performance, the Ladies' Aid Society assisted in serving the ice-cream, berries and cake. There was a liberal supply of the frozen dainty and the succulent berry, and everybody was satisfied.

A large, handsomely framed portrait of the late Rev. Thomas Gallaudet occupied a prominent position on the wall of the Guild Room. It was decorated with flags and bunting, June 3d being his birthday.

At the Sunday service and celebration of the Holy Communion at St. Ann's, Rev. Dr. Chamberlain delivered an eulogy on Dr. Gallaudet, the first apostle to the deaf in this country, and founder of numberless institutions for their benefit. It was Whitsunday, the birthday of the Christian Church, and a most appropriate time to recall not only the beginnings of the Church in far-off Judea, but here at home, the early struggles of our friend and benefactor, Dr. Gallaudet, to bring the consolations of religion to the children of silence.

It was a most eloquent address that Dr. Chamberlain delivered, and it seems to us that the vanishing years instead of dimming the memory of the great and good man we love and revere, brings him more close to us, for his influence still lives and is a power for good wherever the deaf are gathered together and the name of Gallaudet is known.

A very pleasant trip to Glenwood L. I. to visit an old friend (Jack Hoff) was made by Miss Annie Klein and Mr. Joe Sneyd Sunday, June 4th.

The place is very dull on Sundays, but they managed to while away the time pleasantly.

Anybody wishing information about the Clark Deaf-Mutes A. A. track team, should address all communications to the track manager, Joe Sneyd, 926 Whitlock Ave., Bronx.

Mr. and Mrs. T. I. Lounsbury visited Isaac Golland at the River Crest Sanitarium last Sunday. They report him as in better physical condition than at any time since the seven years he has been resting there. Mr. Golland stated to them that he felt so much improved that he might depart there from in a few months.

There are any number of sad-eyed deaf-mutes in New York to-day, chiefly among the younger set, because Miss Frances Mears has gone of Litchfield, Ct., to reside permanently. She will be greatly missed among the progressive parishioners of St. Ann's Church for Deaf-Mutes.

Moritz Schoenfeld sails for Europe this Thursday. He has booked passage on the North German Line flyer "George Washington." He will return in the Fall.

Mr. Henry A. Droppe is making an airship. He expects to break Curtis' record.

New Use for Aeroplane.

In Brunswick there is a young man, the heir to considerable wealth, who, the London Bystander says, is imprisoned on a little bit of territory, and can never leave it till the end of his days, unless he first sacrifices his patrimony. His name is Ebenstein; he is a minor, and he inherits his property from a grandfather who as Hanoverian fought against the Prussians in 1866. Old Ebenstein never forgave the brutal Prussian, and in his will tied up his property with the condition that the tenant for life should never set foot on Prussian soil. But as Prussia surrounds Brunswick, Ebenstein can never get out of it without losing his money. What is worse, Prussia divides Brunswick into five isolated parts, all of which it surrounds; and young Ebenstein lives in one of the smallest parts, and cannot even visit Brunswick City without crossing Prussian soil, violating the will and letting his money go to a remote, undeserving cousin. The local papers suggest that Ebenstein will find salvation and escape perpetual interment in Brunswick by buying an aeroplane and flying across Prussian territory into some non-Prussian state. Master Ebenstein's friends retort with the question: What will happen if the aeroplane breaks down, and drops him in an abominable Prussian cornfield?

OHIO.

(News items for this column may be sent to our Ohio News Bureau, care of Mr. A. B. Greener, 993 Franklin Ave., Columbus, O.)

The Columbus Advance Society's Annual Picnic at the Home, Tuesday, was an enjoyable affair despite the short shower that came on about one o'clock. The same thing happened last year. About two hundred and thirty attended. Four cars took the party up and five hay wagons conveyed it to the Home from the car line. On the way up one of the cars got bumpy twice and jumped the track. No one, however, was hurt. One of the party suggested that two much signing by its occupants, was the cause of the car's action. The Home grounds and everything about were in splendid condition, and then too, Superintendent and Mrs. Chapman received every one most cordially making every body feel at home. An inspection of the place was made, and then the prize contests began. The Society had made ample supply in the way of lunch both noon and evening and sold out everything. Fifty gallons of ice cream did not supply the demand. The start from the Home was made at six in the evening, and shortly after seven the whole party was aboard the cars for the city, all reaching home safely, tired to be sure, but satisfied of having had a fine time in the country.

NOTES.

As usual, Mr. Schory was the photographer for the occasion, and took some fine pictures. Seventy per cent of the proceeds go to the Home.

Quite a number of little tots formed part of the crowd, and they seemed to having a mighty good time too. A group of eighteen was taken by one of the camera fiends on the lawn.

Half a dozen of the boys were ambitious enough to foot it up and back twelve miles each way. They were Allen Chavkin, Walter Kurtz, Wm. Morehouse, Norbert Loew, Wm. Reinbold and Thomas Quilligan. Several more walked up, but preferred to ride back.

The baseball game between the Independents and Athletic Stars came to an end in the second inning, on account of the rain, just before play ceased Israel Crossen made a home run, and was awarded fifty cents as a prize.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hines, of Jeffersonville, came up in their automobile. Nothing stingy about Mr. Hines for he gave a number of the ladies a ride about the country in his machine, and seemed to enjoy doing it as much as those who enjoyed the pleasure.

As usual, the people of the town enjoyed the crowd and were interested in all that was going on, they also patronized the stands, thus helping to swell the receipts.

Those out of town present, were Mrs. Harry G. Augustus and twin children, of Dayton; Mr. and Mrs. Best Tussing and niece, of Canal Winchester; Jacob Stebleton, of Dayton; Wm. Neff, of Crestline; Chas. F. Pope, Marysville; Mrs. John Reye, of Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. Sooy Dresback and children and David Dresback, of Johnstown; Miss Jane M. Campbell, of Evanston, Ill.; Miss Ethel Pollard, of Cincinnati; Miss Annie Barry, of Baltimore, Md.; Jesse R. Good, year, of Pellsburg, Ohio; George Gall, of Stryker, and Ralph Harrington, of Columbia Center.

When people now pass through Central College a large sign hanging on the porch cornice of the large brick building informs them that it is the Home for Aged and Infirm Deaf. It was put up May 24th. The lettering is in Aluminum on an indigo blue background and of a size to be easily read from the road. The sign was presented to the Home by Messrs. Ohlemacher and Opica, the former furnishing the lumber and having it made and the latter doing the painting, which shows up clearly the artistic skill of the hand that did the work.

Following were the winners in the various contests: Girls' 100-yard dash, 1st. Lulu Faulhaber 50 cents; 2d, Anna Kemp, 25 cents. Boys' ball-batting contest; 1st. D. Williams, 50 cents; 2d, W. Murphy, 25 cents. Foot race from car line to Home; 1st, Frank Neal, $1.00; 2d, Irven Burton, 50 cents; Boys' tug of war; Roy Burk's team of 11, 10 cents each. Girls' tug of war; Edith Morehouse's team of 10, 10 cents each. Boys' ball-throwing contest; 1st, N. Pilloid, 50 cents; 2d, Madison, 25 cents. First home-run in baseball game, Israel Crossen, 50 cents.

Mr. George Goll, of Stryker, O., is in town for a couple of weeks, the guest of his classmate, Leo D. Frater of Marshall Ave.

Mr. Jossie Inman and Miss Lizzie Neal took the vows last Sunday to be husband and wife the rest of their life. Both reside in this city and completed their school course last year. Mr. Inman has a good position as a cabinet maker with a firm of this city.

The school enjoyed the honor last Monday of having President Hall of Gallaudet College as a visitor, who spent the time visiting the classes. He departed for Pittsburg in the evening.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. Louis J. Bacheberle has decided to issue a new directory of the deaf. Only those who have used his former ones can attest their usefulness. Mr. Bacheberle proposes to enlarge upon former issues which contained the names of deaf of Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Michigan, by adding Illinois, Western Penn., and probably West Virginia. He expects to have the book out the coming winter or spring, and he will spare no effort to make it one of the best yet issued. It would be well for those interested to send their names to him. His address is 2421 Moeslein Ave., Clifton Heights, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Ladort Miller, of the State Bindery proved himself a hero, Thursday noon, while on his way home to dinner. A team of horses hitched to a milk wagon without a driver was galloping past him. He gave chase on his bike and soon had one of the horses by the bridle rein, and after running a couple of blocks succeeded in halting the team. The owner soon came along and handed Mr. Miller a silver dollar. Little or no damage was done to the wagon.

Mr. John Opica, on Thursday, went back to Dayton to work for his old firm there, work here having become slack for him.

Rev. B. R. Allabough reached the city last evening, and this afternoon, went to Springfield to conduct a service for the deaf there.

George E. Pinto, the walker, was here Wednesday, having been recruiting himself since his arrival here several weeks ago down in Lancaster, Ohio. His wife and child were along, and after seeing them off for Kansas, he in the afternoon resumed his walking trip, going by way of Toledo, Detroit, Kalamazoo, and Chicago.

Candidates for Gallaudet College were battling with examination questions Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this week.

Miss Kent, of East Orange, New Jersey, is the guest this week of Miss Ethel Zell at Grandview. A reception is being given in her honor this afternoon.

The deaf in and around Piqua, to the numbers of 18 enjoyed a picnic on Memorial Day at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Harley D. Drake, several miles out of town. The party went out on a hay wagon.

There will be something doing during June, July and August by the Cleveland Association of the Deaf in the entertainment line, and those residing near had better paste this programme in their hats and be on hand on the several occasions, for our Cleveland friends know how to entertain in a manner that pleases all who attend. June 24—Lawn Fete, for the benefit of the Home for the Aged and Infirm Deaf, on the lawn at 1907 East 40th Street. In charge of the members of the Ladies' Aid Society. July 29—Lake Excursion on the steamer East land, leaving dock at 8:30 P. M. August 26th—Third Annual Picnic, in charge of the Executive Board, will be held at Luna Park unless otherwise announced.

RHODE ISLAND.

A gathering of flattering proportions was present to participate in the "All Night" Entertainment on the evening of May 29th, at Crescent Hall on Westminster St., in Providence, R. I. About 100 responded to the invitations sent out, and the graduates of the oral schools outnumbered us. They certainly seem to get on top elsewhere in New England. Any way they were orderly and unobtrusive in their ways, and their inability to talk in signs was no great setback. The hall was large enough to accommodate us, the floor was as hard and smooth as in dancing schools and this circumstance was taken advantage of by some in the contests for prizes: some of them slid rather than ran. Most of them hid away from a long distance to live over again the olden days and grow young again in the atmosphere of reminiscence and fraternization.

The entertainment was one that is not to be compared to the ordinary social function, because it far surpassed it in excellence and in attendance.

When all had assembled and exchanged greetings, Mr. Frederick Egan, the manager, formally set the ball in motion and kept it moving, making the time pass like a bird on the wing. The programme follows:—

Grand March and dancing. Progressive whist and other games for prizes.

To mention the different individuals who merited praise would be impossible without taking up the space of a column or more in reviewing the performance. Suffice to say that when an affair of its kind is to be arranged, the Deaf here start in with the knowledge that they can give a creditable entertainment almost offhand.

Trus W. Harvey, of Norwich, Ct., was awarded a bric-a-brac for the first prize in the right guessing game as to the correct number of beans in a jar.

Leslie Marshall, of Boston carried off a prize—a mug in the form of a German antique beerstein for whist. Miss Mary Bronson, of Providence, R. I., won a ten-set for whist.

Charles Harris of Boston, Mass., won two prizes—viz., a cigar case and a framed picture, in a horse-whip game and a two-rubber ball game.

A framed picture was won by Harry Greenlaw, of Boston, Mass., in an innovation such as has been introduced from Kentucky.

Mrs. John Scott (nee Miss Briel), formerly of Buffalo, N. Y., and now of Providence, R. I., carried off a status of three monks, in a novel game.

It is doubtful if many of the Deaf of this little state remained away from the entertainment. Worcester, New Bedford, Fall River, Boston, and other towns in the vicinity of Boston were represented, the fair sex being very much in evidence. And the utmost good feeling was manifest throughout.

Fred Egan being of slim build was the only six footer among the Deaf. All the members of the family are more or less of the same height.

Whether the Deaf here have in mind the reorganization of the R. I. Society is a "problematical" question. There is nothing that succeeds like success, and there is nothing that fails like failure.

MASSACHUSETTS.

On the evening of May 20th, at St. James Hall, which is in Boston, the De l'Epee Society gave a Whist party and dance, which was largely attended. After the playing was over the winners and their prizes were announced as follows:—

Mr. W. J. Dion, Gentlemen's first prize, watch-fob.
Miss Anderson, Ladies' first prize, set of neck pins.

Mr. J. Bingham representing the De l'Epee Society, won the game prize against the Commonwealth Athletic Club, which was a large fag.

Mr. Tom White was consoled with the booty prize.

Delicious refreshments were then served, after which dancing took up the rest of the evening. Credit for the successful and enjoyable affair is due to the committee among whom were: Major A. E. Beauchene, Messrs. J. J. Thibodeau, J. P. Douahue, M. Cheevers and J. T. Bingham.

On the 17th of June, at the New England Home for the Aged and Infirm Deaf-Mutes, at Everett, a lawn party will be held from 2 to 9 P. M. Admission, 25 cents. Light refreshments will be served free, with the exception of ice-cream, which will be ten cents extra. Prizes will be awarded to the merited ones in various games.

Mrs. Lena Wise and a friend, Miss Anderson, both of Manchester, N. H., who spent a few days in Boston, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bond, of Salem, who have been at the Bermuda Isles for the past six weeks, have returned home, very much pleased with their trip. Mrs. Bond is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wood.

Mr. Charles Cooper, of Watertown, N. Y., paid a flying visit to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Frisbee, of Everett, recently. On his way home, he stopped over at Hartford, Ct.

On June 1st, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Roberts, of Boston, left for their Summer home at New Castle, N. H., where they expect to stay until late fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Frisbee, of Everett, left June 1st, for a prolonged visit to New York, N. Y.

Mr. Frank Lander, of St. Johnsbury, Vermont, who has been visiting in Boston and Lowell for the past ten days, has returned home. He reported that Mr. Henry Porter, of that town, had met the painful misfortune to lose a finger, while at his work with a circular saw, in the Fairbanks Scade Co., three weeks ago.

Mrs. Charles Fisher, of Methuen, Mass., who has been in Boston for a week, has returned home.

At the Evangelical Church for the Deaf, on June 14th, the Boston Society expect to hold its 9th Social. The Social will be under the direction of Messrs. Fred Wood, Charles Walker and others.

Mr. Fred Skillin, of Portland, Maine, who recently paid a flying visit to Boston, has returned home. H. H. H.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Among the floral tributes to Mrs. E. P. Wood's funeral were a lovely wreath from the Ephphatha Society, and a large bouquet from the Rochester deaf. As there was no money in the treasury of the Benevolent Society, Mr. C. Gibbs collected from the deaf friends of Mrs. Wood and later it was decided that the Bible Class, church members and Alumni Association members all give some and put it together and thus have a sum on hand to be called for when needed. Mrs. Wood looked so peaceful and natural, it was hard to believe she was gone. It seemed she had simply fallen asleep. Her many friends do indeed miss her.

While in Rochester "base balling" Mr. Taylor had a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Timmerman.

Miss Emma Keuhne who is employed at the Deaf-Mute School here, has the sympathy of all her friends on the death of her sister, Minnie, who was killed by the cars in Batavia while gathering clover for her pet rabbits.

Mr. August Leust has returned from Islay Isle, after working for Dr. Westervelt at his cottage. It is being put in order for him, as he and his wife expect to occupy it this summer.

Mr. E. P. Wood being near Pittsford recently, stopped in to see Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Davis.

Miss Minnie Howell used to live in Watertown, N. Y. Can any one send her address to Deaf-Mute Inst., Rochester, N. Y., right away, so a letter can be sent to her in regard to the Re-union that takes place Friday, June 16th and 17th.

The closing exercises of the Western New York Institution for Deaf Mutes will begin tomorrow evening when a reception will be held by Lambda Phi Phi Debating Society. The annual examinations will be held from June 6 to June 9, a reception to the students and the members of the corporation will be held.

Exercises led by Dr. Z. F. Westervelt will be held in the chapel Sunday morning, June 11, and in the afternoon the Silent Workers and Little Helpers societies will make their annual reports, and contributions will be received for the maintenance of a school for the Deaf in Chifu, China. The Alumni Association will hold its annual meeting June 17. The athletic contests will take place in the afternoon of the same day. At 2:30 and at 5:30 o'clock there will be a picnic on the lawn. Chapel services for the Alumni will be held Sunday, June 18th.

Deaf-Mute Celebrities

Emanuel Philibert, Prince of Savoy, who died 1700, at the age of fifty, mastered four languages.

Jean Massieu, living from 1772 to 1846, was director of the Deaf Mute Institute at Lille, France. He possessed extraordinary logical powers.

Walter Geikie, painter and engraver, demonstrated such skill in the portraiture of Scotch lowly life that he was known as the Teniers of Scotland. He was born in 1795 and died in 1837.

Edwin John Mann, mechanic and author, born in 1811, was a graduate of the Hartford Asylum. In 1826 he published a volume called "The Deaf and Dumb," consisting of a collection of articles relating to the condition of deaf-mutes.

David M. Phillips, who was born in 1811, was for a time a lieutenant colonel of the Governor's Horse Guards in Louisiana. He filled many offices with fidelity and distinction, some of them such as it would seem impossible for a deaf-mute to occupy.

Two Days in Duluth.

Duluth will have for two days in July as guests, about 100 of those who are coming to the big convention of American instructors of the deaf, to be held at Delavan, Wis. The instructors will hold their convention July 6 to 13th, and when it is over it is intended to have as many as possible make the trip to Duluth. The Commercial Club and J. Cooke Howard have in hand the entertainment of the guests while they will be here.

It is proposed to take the visitors about the city in automobiles, to have them take lunch at the Commercial Club and to meet as many of the business people as possible. They will be taken around the harbor to see the docks and shipping, entertained at the Boat club and conducted on a trip to the mines on the Iron range.—Duluth News, April 29.

FANWOOD.

Memorial Day received due observance at Fanwood last Wednesday morning in the shape of the program found below. Principal Currier being absent, Dr. Fox took his place, officiating like the veteran he is. In the past stenographic accounts were sometimes given by the writer, but as nearly all such events are alike in manner of observance, and besides it is news of last week, so we scribe contents himself with attaching the appended program, which is "sufficient unto itself" in the matter of enlightenment.

PROGRAM.

Salute to the Flag.
Lord's Prayer in concert.
Lessons taught by the day. (Dr. Fox).
"Battle Hymn of the Republic." (Choir).
"Star Spangled Banner." (Band).
Pupils from Miss King's class.
"Miss Buckingham's class."
"Miss MacIntyre's two classes."
"How Sleep the Brave?" (Choir).
"Dixie" and "Yankee Doodle." (Band).
Pupils from Mr. Best's 3d.
"Miss Ruggles' 4th."
"Miss Burchard's 4th."
"Mr. Thomason's 4th."
"Miss Hall's 5th."
"Reconciliation." (Prof. Jones).
"National March." (Band).
Representatives of Mr. Bjorlie's class.
Representatives of the Blind-Deaf class.
Teachers alternating with Cadet Officers.
Selections by Band—"When the Cruel War is Over," "Battle Cry," "Free Men Rally," "My Hero," "23d Regiment March," "Christian Soldiers," etc., "America" rendered by Choir.
Dismissal of the Colors.
Dismissal.

Another gem in the literary line was presented to the Fanwood Literary Association last Saturday evening. If you are inclined to doubt it, look below:

READING—"Macedonia," by Cadet Solia Gerschapek.
READING—"Father and Child," by Miss Cecelia Gilmour.
READING—"The Little Patriots," by Miss Elizabeth Prims.
DEBATE—"Resolved, That automobiles are more useful than aeroplanes." Affirmative side, Cadet Oscar Poland; Negative side, Cadet S. Gerschapek.
DECLAMATION—"The Serenade," by Miss Marion McCoy.
READING—"The White Ship," by Cadet Albert Dirkes.
READING—"A Quick Witted Nurse," by Miss Bertha Levy.
READING—"The Fireman's Leopard," by Cadet S. Kabanovitch.
READING—"A Faithful Dog," by Cadet Irving Simon.
READING—"William Tell," by Cadet M. Rosenberg.
DIALOGUE—"Troubles of a Photographer."

CAST OF CHARACTERS.

The Photographer, Mr. Rockwood.....

Sunday School Class.....Class

The program itself is sufficient, so the writer need not rhapsodize on its merits. The class took up the entire evening, leaving no time for Dr. Fox to give the news of the week. Instead, the meeting adjourned when the program was concluded.

The Friday classes of the gymnasium have had a fine series of athletic exercises for the past month. With the coming of the warm weather, the Physical Director, Dr. Seikel, innovated several interesting features, among which indoor baseball and running two or three miles may be mentioned. Since the last named innovation the demand for running paraphernalia has jumped above par, and all praise is to be conferred upon the worthy Director for his tact in combining work with pleasure. Editor Hodgson bobs up now and then during the baseball games often taking part with as much interest as the team of the younger generation he supports. Several snapshots, of Dr. Seikel and his classes were also taken by the Editor.

The home-going of the pupils for the summer vacation will be on June 20th. In the afternoon of that day Commencement exercises will take place on the lawn.
Mr. G. J. R. Ferguson, pupil of Fanwood 1886-1897, and veteran of the Spanish-American War, was a Monday visitor. He came in uniform. For the benefit of the perplexed, let it be known that Mr. Ferguson recovered his hearing sufficiently to enable him to join the army, to which he still belongs.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Memorial Day's game with the Newark Y. M. C. A. was a sweeping victory, the final score being 22 to 0 in our favor.

Saturday a game with the New York Life Insurance Co's nine was to have been played, but we never got a glimpse of them. Instead a couple of scrub teams played against each other for the remainder of the afternoon.

Saturday, June 10th, the game with the Alumni is scheduled. Examinations are now on!

Announcement.

The next Annual Meeting of the Pennsylvania Society for the Advancement of the Deaf will be held in the City of Harrisburg, Pa., on August 24th, 25th and 26th, 1911, for the purpose of hearing reports, electing four Managers to serve three years in place of the retiring Managers whose terms will expire at this meeting—viz: Thomas Breen, Philadelphia; R. M. Barker, Johnstown; J. M. Rolshouse, Pittsburg; and Rev. C. O. Dantzer, Philadelphia—and transacting such other business as may come before the Society. The Committee on Arrangements will issue and distribute circulars, in good time, giving full information in regard to daily programme, receptions, excursions, railroad rates, hotel prices, etc.
One of the features of the meeting will be the thirtieth anniversary celebration of the Society.

BUY THE NEW HOME SEWING MACHINE

Do not be deceived by those who advertise a $40.00 Sewing Machine for $20.00. This kind of a machine can be bought from us or any of our dealers from $15.00 to $18.00.

WE MAKE A VARIETY.

THE NEW HOME IS THE BEST. The Feed determines the strength or weakness of Sewing Machines. The Double Feed combined with other strong points makes the New Home the best Sewing Machine to buy.

Write for CIRCULARS showing the different styles of Sewing Machines, we manufacture and prices before purchasing
